The Roving

December, 2022

December, 2022 Greetings, HWOTV!

Dear Guild Members,

All went well with my knee replacement surgery last week. I am already up and about and doing amazingly well! I'm even doing some weaving (a little).

I literally sold out of dish towels last month so now I am anxious to get started on some new ones. I have lots of ideas for some new patterns I want to try.

For the next couple weeks I'm pretty much house bound because I can't drive. I'm not much for physical therapy but my looms are calling to me so I will be doing some "weaving" physical therapy. Once again weaving is saving my sanity.

December

Get your party shoes ready! It is our Annual Holiday Giving Party on December 10 at 10. The theme is Holidays Around the World. Challenge yourself to incorporate the theme into your plans. As in the past, please bring handmade items for gifts for those who are in need. In addition to these gifts, there is a Holiday Gift Game for our Guild members. If you would like to play the Holiday Gift Game, bring a wrapped package (bags okay) with a limit of $20. We are also asking folks to bring an appetizer or dessert to share with the guild. Please RSVP rooksworld@sbcglobal.net by December 3rd.

NOTE: If you completed a New Year's Resolution last January, I will return it to you at the December meeting. Hopefully, it will help you with planning your Vision Board!

January

Are you having issues planning, focusing, or following through with plans? Put your EYE on 2023 with a Vision Board. You are invited to spend most of the program chatting and thinking (maybe thinking more) and then making your Vision Board. If you are not familiar with a Vision Board, there are many resources on the internet and a few later in the newsletter.

The guild will provide a sheet of poster board (18 x 24), additional cool papers, glue, stickers, scissors, yarn, and markers (you know teachers, we love our supplies), staplers and more. If you have your own or would like to share with others, please feel free to bring your own supplies.

Hopefully, this event will provide inspiration, fun, and a little crafting, as you plan for a fruitful 2023. Feel free to share with friends and neighbors as you create your Vision Board before you take it home and place in your work area.

The calendar is still under development at the time of publication. If you have not already, please complete the HWOTV survey by December 3rd. Thanks for the helpful information so far.

Take a look at the HWOTV website. There is a new section called The Attic, which will house information and pictures of items that are FOR SALE.

Need a new membership badge? Please email rooksworld@sbcglobal.net; it will be printed ASAP.

At the end of Show and Sale, someone left 10-12 wooden pant hangers behind. If these nice hangers belong to you, please let an officer know or email (rooksworld@sbcglobal.net).

From DeeDee King:

Reuse, Recycle, Use it up!

Dear Guild Members;

I hope everyone is happy and relaxed after their Thanksgiving weekend. Now, before the holiday rush begins, the time has come to reveal our 2022 Challenge results. Last year's challenge was so much fun and the reveal was so educational. I hope that you tried something in the past year that will inspire us, instruct us and point us to some new ways of thinking about weaving. December's guild meeting will have lots of fun, good things to eat and a program about our challenges. Please let us know what you tried, successful or not. Sometimes I learn more from my "fails" than from projects that run smoothly. I have a "recycle" project to share, as well as a "use it up" one. See you in December!
